

Training

For more than a decade, AGI has been relied upon by global companies and local organizations to help them and their employees better use technology to communicate. Whether providing customized training solutions to ten or ten thousand employees, or assisting with consulting and implementation services, AGI has the depth and experience to help your business.

How We Work

Once you select AGI to support your professional development or technology implementation, we are your partner from planning through your first live project. For customized and private training, you will work with an experienced account manager from AGI. They will work with you to determine the best process for your professional development training, whether it is part of a new software adoption, an upgrade, skills improvement, or consulting. You will be able to choose from AGI's extensive library of existing curriculum, or have training content custom-designed to meet your goals and objectives.

AGI's staff can work with you into your first deadline or on your first projects, and can provide ongoing support and documentation.

Unparalleled Experience

AGI's instructors have extensive experience assisting all types of organizations adopt new creative and publishing technology. AGI has assisted thousands of marketing, creative, and editorial teams adopt new software by providing planning, training, and support services.

Expert Instructors

AGI instructors have authored dozens of books on all types of print, video, and Web publishing technology. Adobe has hired AGI's team of experts to author more than 10 of the Classroom in a Book series for Adobe Press, including titles on InDesign, Illustrator, and Acrobat. Additionally, they assist Adobe in developing product certification exams.

Capabilities

AGI offers a variety of training delivery options, including regularly scheduled open-enrollment classes, private and customized classes, on-line training delivery, seminars, and conferences.

Customized and Private Training

AGI can deliver private or customized classes at your location or at any of AGI's classroom locations. Customized classes allow the training to be tailored to your specific needs through pre-training planning and customized curriculum.

Regularly Scheduled Training

AGI offers regularly scheduled training classes on a variety of creative software tools at classrooms located in New York City, suburban Boston, suburban Philadelphia, Orlando, and Chicago. Training is available for Photoshop, InDesign, Flash, Dreamweaver, Illustrator, Acrobat, and other applications.

Seminars and Conferences

AGI's instructors share their experience in seminars that cover essential skills and new features of print, Web, video, and mobile publishing software.

Each year at AGI's annual Creative and PDF Conferences, experts and luminaries discuss trends, tools, and techniques that allow you to work more effectively and creatively with software publishing tools. The conference is your chance to network with peers, discover new techniques, and gain inspiration for your work.
